

Valhalla Venture

Hooray for the Red, White and Blue, hot summer days, and for Apple Tree. Be sure to watch your child's classroom door for upcoming events in all of our rooms.

Did you know...

That Apple Tree strives to have the cleanest centers in town. Through hard work and dedication to our scheduled cleaning duties we take pride in our center being the best around.

Don't forget, while you are bragging about Apple Tree to your co-workers, families and neighbors; be sure to send them our way. Even if they just come in to take a tour you will receive a $25.00 bonus. If they decide that they love us as much as you do and enroll, you will receive a full week of tuition free.

Remember to mention the fun field trips and learning activities that your children receive on a daily basis. Your children have so much fun at Apple Tree that they don't even realize they are learning most of the time.

We would love to have any parents that like to celebrate July 4 come and join our school age children for a red, white and blue parade on Friday, July 2. It will start at 10:30 am and will go from 2nd Ave to 11th St. then down Phillips to 5th and Main and back to 2nd Ave. You can walk with them or watch them celebrate as they do the walking. All 4 Apple Tree's will be participating so it should be a great time. Bring your friends, bring your family or just come during your lunch break. We hope to see you there.

When sharing your great experiences at Apple Tree with others, mention the things that you like.

For example:

- Health and safety
- High quality education
- Structure
- Field Trips
- Center activities

If you send someone in for a tour, you will earn a $25 tuition credit. This means that all you have to do is tell someone about how great Apple Tree is, and send them our way! ANY tour that is referred by you earns you a $25 credit on your account. Pretty good for just doing some talking! If they choose to enroll, you still get the enrollment referral credit; one free week of tuition.

We are excited for everyone to view our new and updated website at www.appletreechildren.org. There are current menus, newsletters etc. Maybe you will even see your child's smiling face. Check it out!

We want to thank those people that think of us before giving away or throwing away things that we find very useful. Bev and Krissa Timmer donated a load of craft supplies. Trinity and Amanda Surat donated baby supplies and clothing that were left over after their rummage sale. Angie Woolridge gave a stack of almost new books about feelings. Thanks to each of you for your generosity.

Thanks

Have you heard about our new Parent Library? We have a great collection of books just for parents. Raising kids is hard work, and sometimes it's nice to have a reference on how to do it. Here are some examples of the great books:

- The Siblings Busy Book: 200 fun activities for kids of different ages.
- Setting Limits with your Strong Willed Child: Eliminating conflict by establishing clear, firm and respectful boundaries.

If you are interested in checking out a book, please see the office.

Don't forget:

NO OPEN TOE or OPEN BACK shoes.

Bring SUNSCREEN and BUGSPRAY for your child.

June marked the start of lots of great learning activities and field trips for the Preschool children. The Care Bears had some great experiences with Splatter painting, locating continents, Jello Jigglers, and tie dye. They took part in the Barnes & Noble story time as well. The Jellybeans had an awesome time going to the radio station. I believe they showed off their knowledge of the State capitals on air! Smart kids! They enjoyed art from Jake Chenier for the "Artist in the park" series. Their prized creation was a flag cake they cooked up and decorated with strawberries and blueberries. It was a delicious success. The Cool Cats made their rounds to the Library and to Storyland Theater. They had a great time going to Pizza Hut to learn how to make pizza. They also got to stretch and tumble at Power & Grace Gymnastics. Officer Pottebaum came to visit with the 4's and 5's about Officer's tools, and Personal Safety. The children really loved looking at his "talking car". It is always a pleasure having him visit.

Remember:

We are closed on Monday, July 5th!
